

The legacy media covered up Joe Biden's growing senility up until just a few weeks ago. Republicans saw it for the last three years, and they criticized our proof as "deep fakes."

They could cover it up no more when the whole country saw his dementia clearly in the presidential debate last month.

Now, the legacy media is trying to tell you Kamala Harris was never the "border czar" even though the media cited her as the border czar 31,800 times; and also is trying to cover up her radical-left record and positions.

Why should you now believe anything the legacy media says?

After hiding it for years, the Democrat machine removed Joe Biden after the American people saw his dementia for themselves in the debate.

Was removing him an example of democracy? How many votes did Harris receive in the Democrat primaries? (None actually)

This from the party that is always blathering on about "saving democracy"

Stop their lying and cover ups, vote Republican.

The picture shows Natalie Zeleznikar (State Rep 3B) and Roger Skraba (State Rep 3A) holding legislation Democrats gave legislators 20 minutes to review before scheduled voting.

An even worse example of Democrat "legislating" was Obamacare. Nancy Pelosi said: "We will have to pass it before we know what's in it"

Is that any way to pass legislation?

Stop their nonsense and return to common sense governance, vote Republican.

If you believe gun control laws will not keep criminals from getting guns

If you think it is wrong for a politician in power to try to prosecute their opponent using judges and prosecutors friendly to their party

If you do not trust most legacy media sources anymore for information

Gosh, you just might be a Republican! Vote that way.

Are you a Republican who doesn't vote because you believe the Democrats cheat and your vote will not count? Well, you might just be right, MN has some of the loosest election laws in the country. You are right to be concerned.

There is one thing for sure though, if you don't vote, there is a 0% chance that your vote will be counted.
